T = 194989 are starting to ship and Rustyjaw just published the image on the back below and I was getting in trouble Take to convert it to 5U. On the one hand most of the jacks are grouped on separate PCBs, which helps to simplify the conversion, but it seems that there are many circuits on those PCBs, probably damping at least and maybe stirring etc. So it would not be as easy as right To make a panel to mount the main PCB set soÀÀ and add a bunch of jacks at the bottom. Also this A9giÀ a $600 Eurorack module, so if someone like Freeste FX did a conversion, I bet they should have charged almost $1000 for a 5U version to be worth the time and effort?
